Supporting Evidence: Gerardo Medrano Jr. is considered in violation of his period of probation by consuming alcohol to excess on or prior to April 9, 2005.

On April 9, 2005, the defendant backed his vehicle into another vehicle at a night club. When officers arrived they noted the defendant smelled of alcohol and looked to be intoxicated. A field sobriety test was preformed and the defendant failed the test. The defendant was transported to the Benton County Jail where he agreed to take a breath test. Two tests were taken with the levels being noted at .199 and .207.

On May 4, 2005, the defendant pled guilty in Benton County District Court under case number R00016621, and was sentenced to two days confinement, to complete an alcohol assessment and treatment, driving restrictions and was ordered to pay $958.00 in court fees.

U.S. Probation Officer Action:

The defendant has been monitored regarding his compliance with his sentence in Benton County District Court. The defendant complied with the assessment for alcohol treatment and it was determined he did not need to continue in treatment. He did complete a victims panel at Columbia Basin College in Pasco, and has paid all but $100.00 towards his fine. As the defendant has complied with the expectations of the Court in Benton County it would be respectfully recommended no action be taken at this time. Should the defendant violate any additional conditions of his period of probation the Court will be immediately notified.
